Civil Rights Debate Starts Off Serenely

WASHINGTON (AP)—A civil rights debate that opened in unexpected serenity continues today with the bill's supporters wondering how long the smooth sailing will last.

For nearly five hours Friday the explosive issue was discussed in genegally calm and reasoned tones, with even a few jokes thrown in and applause generously afforded most speakers.

That took care of almost half the time allotted for debate, and House leaders hope to clear up the rest today so that real fighting over amendments can begin Monday. All next week has been set aside for considering amendments.

The prevailing calm did not cover up the sharp differences between North and South on the bill, which would provide broad new federal powers to combat racial discrimination. But despite their fierce objections, the Southerners took almost no advantage of the many opportunities in the House rules to delay the proceedings. Only once was debate interrupted by a demand for a quorum or majority be mustered.

Instead, speakers on both sides called repeatedly for calm debate, with Rep. Clarence J. Brown, R-Ohio, perhaps, putting it best when he said, "Let us have the House demonstrate to the world that on legislation of this importance we can act in the cool light of reason, fairly, justly, properly."

The House leaders expect the measure to be passed without being seriously amended by Feb. 11, then on to the Senate and a likely filibuster.

Youth Damages Buses, Sentenced To Garage Work

WARREN (AP)—A 16-year-old Warren boy, accused of damaging buses belonging to the Warren Consolidated Schools, Friday was ordered to spend his Saturdays working at a school garage.

Probate (Juvenile) Judge Donald J. Parent ordered the boy to spend every Saturday until his 17th birthday next summer, performing the work of a regular workmen in the garage that services the buses.

Judge Parent said the youth will not be allowed to return to school until he shows he can perform the garage work satisfactorily and indicates a willingness to do his school work.

The youth was accused of slashing 50 school bus tires last Nov. 3, of damaging the ignition of one bus and taking the ignition keys of other buses on Nov. 9, and of removing and throwing away valve core stems of 110 bus tires on Nov. 10.

Districting Plan Passed On To Supreme Court

LANSING (AP) — The State Apportionment Commission decided unanimously today to pass its legislative redistricting responsibilities on to the State Supreme Court.

The eight-member, bi-partisan commission appeared close to arriving at a compromise plan as it passed its midnight Friday deadline.

But a key vote found four Democrats in favor, three Republicans opposed and the fourth GOP member, William Hanna of Muskegon, passing.

Hanna then submitted a final plan which was rejected 4-4 on party lines. It was the 23rd motion on a plan or amendments to fail to gain a majority.

Five Months Futile

Commissioners now may individually or jointly submit plans to the Supreme Court—which in turn can order the commission to adopt the plan the court decides comes closest to constitutional requirements.

Friday's 17-hour session climaxed five months of public hearings and consideration of some 150 plans aimed at remapping House and Senate districts in accordance with constitutional provisions in time for next November's election.

The commission members considered many plans and variations Friday but failed to agree on the principles underlying the plans as well as the actual districts proposed.

One plan submitted by Democratic co-chairman Richard Austin of Detroit was based primarily on a "one man — one vote" principle aimed at satisfying the first article of the new constitution pertaining to equal protection under the law, rather than the article dealing specifically with legislative apportionment.

Suit Pending

The plan was defeated 4-4 on party lines. Former Gov. Wilber Brucker of Grosse Pointe, Republican co-chairman of the commission, said he refused to consider the plan seriously.

At other times, commission members failed to agree on the probable political makeup of the legislature under a specific plan.

Hanna early in the afternoon suggested the commission defer action until a federal court suit challenging the apportionment provisions of the constitution is settled.

In that suit, five state labor leaders seek to throw out House and Senate provisions on grounds they violate the equal protection of the laws concept of the U.S. and State Constitutions because they discriminate against urban voters.

Issues Defined By Rockefeller

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is sharpening his differences with President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater in an accelerating political campaign that is ranging from coast to coast.

Rockefeller's forum is one that his campaign aides claim is paying rich dividends in his bid for the Republican nomination for president—the question and answer period after his formal speeches.

The governor used this approach Friday night in a campaign trip to Nashua, N.H., and in a visit to California earlier this week. He plans to do the same in a campaign visit to Oregon next week.

The governor paid a fast-moving, seven-hour visit Friday to New Hampshire, where he and Goldwater are entered in the March 10 presidential-preference primary, along with other GOP prospects.

In another development concerning the Rockefeller campaign, Jackie Robinson, the first Negro to break into major-league baseball, resigned as a top executive of the Chock Full O' Nuts coffee and restaurant company to join the Rockefeller campaign organization.

Many Churches Closed In Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Exiled Cuban church officials asked the World Council of Churches today to investigate what they called increasing persecution of Protestants in Cuba.

They cited newly imposed restrictions, harassment of pastors and closing of churches.

The Movement for Christian Action, headed by the Rev. Manuel Viera, exiled Methodist pastor now in Tampa, Fla., told the council in Geneva, Switzerland, that Protestants "have been persecuted, first in subtle and silent ways, later openly, and always in a systematic and implacable way by the Communist regime."

The movement urged the council to look into this "and let the world know the real situation."

The Rev. Germinal Rivas, information officer for the movement, said underground sources reported the Fidel Castro regime had just closed one of Cuba's largest Protestant churches, the Central Baptist in Santa Clara.

The minister had "decided not to let the church be used for communism," Rivas said.

About 40 per cent of Cuba's Protestant churches are closed, Rivas reported. He estimated that before Castro's take-over in 1959 about 800 operated in Cuba. These were mostly Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopal, Pentecostal and Jehovah's Witnesses congregations.

Under new Cuban regulations, unpublished but relayed to Protestant ministers, Rivas said, no person under 18 can become a church member, printed matter such as Bibles or church notices cannot be distributed, church groups must register as associations rather than as churches, lists of persons making church monetary pledges must be furnished the government, and religious activity outside churches is forbidden.

Not Running For Anything, Shriver Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver says he doesn't think he's going to get the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

And, with a bow in the direction of brother-in-law Robert F. Kennedy, he says the attorney general would be a "terrific" choice.

Shriver's comments on one of Washington's favorite guessing games — President Johnson's likely running mate—were elicited by newsmen Friday after he told the House Foreign Affairs Committee he needs $115 million to run the Peace Corps the next fiscal year.

After the session, Shriver dropped by the White House to chat with Johnson and reports immediately began circulating that the President has decided to set up a new agency headed by Shriver to direct the administration's pledged war on poverty.

A comment from Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., that Johnson had indicated "someone like Sargent Shriver" should direct it gave substance to the reports.

In talking with newsmen about the vice presidential nomination, Shriver said: "I've not decided to rule out anything or rule in anything. I came down here at the request of President Kennedy to try to do a job. . . . I've tended to my knitting as closely as possible. I've made a point of this. I'm not running for anything."

Income Tax Bill Filed In Lansing

LANSING (AP) — The legislature next week will face a proposal that Michigan's voters be asked to approve a 3 per cent income tax.

Sen. Charles McManiman, D-Houghton, filed a bill for introduction Monday calling for the issue to go on the ballot of the November election in the same manner as a constitutional amendment.

The bill, if approved by voters, would impose "a specific tax of 3 per cent upon the taxable gross income of every person, whether a resident of this state or a non-resident who derives taxable gross income from sources within this state."

Businesses, estates and associations would fall under the definiiton of "person" in the McManiman bill.

Car Rams Bus At Port Huron, 3 Children Die

PORT HURON (AP) — Three children died in a pool of burning gasoline and 14 others were injured Friday night when a bus returning 50 youngsters from a roller skating party was struck by a car and burst into flames.

St. Clair County Sheriff's deputies said the impact caused the gasoline tank of the bus to explode, ripping open the rear of the bus and throwing several children into the burning gasoline.

The dead were identified as Joyce Kearney, 16; Frances McNamara, 16, and Bill Sampson, 11, all of Port Huron.

Another Port Huron boy, John Running, 15, is in critical condition at Port Huron Hospital.

St. Clair County sheriff's deputies said none of the other children, ranging in age from 11 to 17, was injured seriously.

Deputies said the bus driver, Stewart Heddle, 55, of Marysville, told them the bus stalled in the southbound lane of U.S. 25, about three miles north of Port Huron.

Heddle told officers his efforts to start the bus failed, and about 15 of the older boys became worried, and dismounted to try to push the bus off the highway.

Deputies said the boys spotted a car approaching from the rear and called a warning as they ran off the road.

The auto, driven by Clifford J. Agnew, 18, of Port Huron, hit the rear of the bus, splitting the gas tank, and igniting a flash fire.

Heddle and Agnew were released after questioning, pending further investigation, deputies said.

Raging Typhoon Catches Shipping In Japan Sea

LONDON (AP) — Hundreds of ships have been caught by a typhoon in the Japan Sea, Moscow Radio reported today.

The broadcast quoted correspondents who said that winds up to 75 miles an hour accompanied by snow were lashing the sea.

Bulldozers were working nonstop in the streets of Vladivostock clearing snow drifts.

"The winds of the typhoon are spread very wide," said the broadcast. "Breakers of unheard of force are thundering on the shores of Japan, the Soviet maritime province and the Kurile Islands."

Spacecraft Headed To Hit Moon Sunday

THIS IS WHERE Ranger 6 should land Sunday. Harris M. Schurmeier, Ranger project manager, points to a spot on a large photo of the moon, indicating the place where scientists expect the camera-laden spacecraft to crash. The area circled is a flat plain known as the Sea of Tranquility. (AP Wirephoto)

Lunar Course Of Ranger 6 Nearly Perfect

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists were jubilant today that the camera-packed Ranger 6 spacecraft was heading directly to an area on the moon under consideration for future astronaut landings.

If all goes well, Ranger 6 should hit the moon at 4:24 a.m. EST Sunday.

The spacecraft was launched from Cape Kennedy, Fla., Wednesday. Its course was corrected in midflight early Thursday to aim it within a 150-mile-diameter circle on the flat plain known as Mare Tranquillitatis or the Sea of Tranquility.

In the last 10 minutes of flight, 900 miles before impact, six cameras aboard the spacecraft are supposed to start taking the first of more than 3,000 pictures.

The first photos, radioed in a steady stream to earth, should show surface areas 151,000 and 16,800-square-mile areas, taken by two wide-angle cameras. Areas of 9,480 and 1,950 square miles are the targets of four narrow-angle cameras.

Closeup pictures, just before impact, should show about half a square mile. The wide-angle cameras are to take 117 pictures each, the narrow-angle cameras 714 each.

Ranger 6's target area was chosen so cameras would catch sharp shadow from slanting sun rays. The shadows will help scientists determine how rough or smooth the surface may be, vital information for spaceman landings.

The United States Apollo Project is scheduled to put a man on the moon by the end of the decade.

The best previous moon pictures were from the Soviet Union's Lunik 3 in 1959. It shot 33-mm film, developed it, and radioed back about 30 pictures from distances between 43,498 and 4,375 miles from the moon.

Scientists at Jet Propulsion Laboratory, who built the Ranger series and are tracking and guiding No. 6, told newsmen Friday it appears the shot is nearly perfect. If it continues, a final course adjustment may not be necessary, they said.

Friday's midcourse correction —a 67-second blast from a 50-pound thrust rocket engine — put Ranger 6 almost precisely on the beam. Otherwise, the vehicle would have passed 2,000 miles to the left of the moon and curved to within 600 miles of its backside.

Staebler Talks At First Rally

DETROIT (AP) — Democratic Congressman-at-large Neil Staeber promised a "different" campaign and vowed to "outparticipate the Republicans" Friday night as he addressed the first rally in his campaign to win the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Staebler spoke before 250 persons in Detroit's 14th Congressional District and planned to move on to Albion today for an appearance at a Calhoun County fund-raising dinner.

Staebler told the Detroit rally he would work more closely with candidates for the State Legislature. He also said there had been too much concentration in the past on the man running for governor.

He told the rally he would seek increased "citizen participation" in his campaign, and in a dig at Republican Gov. George Romney's plea for the same thing, asked, "where have you heard that phrase before?"

Isle Royale Park Cruiser Skipper Dies In Florida

HOUGHTON (AP)—Joseph E. Colomb, well known figure on Isle Royale National Park, died Friday at Fort Meyer, Fla. He was 75.

For 32 years, Colomb served the Lake Superior island and skippered Ranger I, a boat which operated between Houghton and the island. He retired in 1957 and subsequently spent winters in Florida and summers on the Isle Royale.

In 1961, the island tug was christened the "Joseph E. Colomb" in honor of Colomb, a native of the Upper Peninsula.

Funeral arrangements are being made in Houghton.

Turkey Approves Idea Of Allied Force In Cyprus

LONDON (AP) — Prospects for adoption of a U.S.-British plan to send an Allied peacekeeping force to Cyprus brightened today after Turkey had approved the idea and Greek leaders had been reported backing the proposal.

The plan will have to be approved by the Greek Cypriot president, Archbishop Makarios. But Makarios has indicated he will veto it unless the force is answerable to the U.N. Security Council. The Western Allies are not likely to approve such a demand because this would give the Soviet Union a voice in the matter.

Turkish Cypriots at the London peace conference also have objected to the plan, but for different reasons. They claim the proposal would not permit reinforcement of Turkey's 650-man garrison stationed on Cyprus under a treaty.

It appeared the next step would be for Turkey and Greece to join the United States and Britain to present the plan formally to Makarios and Dr. Fazil Kutchuk, the Turkish-Cypriot vice president.

The U.S.-British plan, presented at the London conference Friday, would station a force of not less than 10,000 men from North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) countries on Cyprus. The United States would contribute 2,000 men.

Beside the United States and Britain, the peace-keeping force aly and possibly reportedly wou reportedly would come from Turkey, Greece, W. Germany, Italy and possibly France. Britain, Turkey and Greece are the guarantors of the independence of Cyprus under the island's 1960 constitution and the agreements which made it independent.

Miniature Baby Still Survives

DETROIT (AP) — A 17½-ounce baby girl is waging—and so far winning—a battle for her life against gigantic odds in a Detroit hospital.

Female Infant X, reportedly the smallest baby ever to survive here, was born Jan. 18 and weighed in at 24 ounces. Since then she has lost 6½ ouces of body fluid.

Hospital authorities, who estimated that she was born after only six and a half months, said news of the birth was withheld until doctors were certain she had a good chance of survival.

Dr. Arthur Thompson, head of the premature infants section of Children's Hospital, said that generally any baby born after less than seven months, or weighing less than 35 ounces at birth, cannot survive.

The tiny girl is fighting the odds on both counts—odds that may have been as high as 1,000 to one at birth, he said.

"I now think, though, that she has a 50-50 chance," he added.

The baby, who can make a whole meal of two ounces of concentrated formula, was completely formed and mature enough to live when she was born, Dr. Thompson said.

She looks like a miniature doll, with hands a half-inch wide and feet one-inch long. Her torso is not wider than the hands ofr the nuses who care for her.

Cold February Coming, Says Weather Man

By The Associated Press

Inclement weather and mild temperatures prevailed over most of the country today, the first day of the primrose month, as the U.S. Weather Bureau issued a dismal forecast in the wake of a relatively mild January.

Hazardous driving conditions were common for northeastern New York and for most of New England. Light snow mixed with sleet and freezing rain fell, and gale warnings were displayed along the coast.

Rain dampened the area from the Carolinas northward into Pennsylvania and Michigan. Rain also fell through the Ohio and Tennessee Valleys.

The far Northwest had rain from Washington to northern California, and snow spread inland through the interior.

Fog shrouded much of the Midwest. In Chicago a motorist driving in zero visibility struck and killed a youth riding a bicycle.

Clear skies and unseasonably warm temperatures prevailed from the far Southwest through the Rocky Mountains and Plains states.

January bowed out Friday on an unseasonably mild note. But the U.S. Weather Bureau had dismal news concerning February, which wasn't even included in the first Roman calendar.

The Weather Bureau said in its 30-day forecast that February will be colder than normal in most portions of the country and that precipitation probably will be greater than usual on the Atlantic seaboard.

The proverbial groundhog is supposed to emerge from its burrow Sunday to look for his shadow. If the sun is shining and the groundhog can see his shadow, he goes back to sleep for a while and winter is not over. But if the animal cannot see his shadow, springtime activities begin.

Erhard Aide Under Arrest

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's chief security officer has been arrested on charges of participating in the World War III Nazi massacre of Jews in southern Russia.

Ewald Peters, who also held the post under former West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, was arrested Thursday when he returned with Erhard from Rome.

Peters, a short, stocky man in his early 50s, had accompanied Erhard on his visit to President Johnson's Texas ranch last December. His job also included responsibility for organizing security measures for distinguished visitors, including President Kennedy, who came to West Germany last June.

In announcing the arrest Friday, government officials disclosed few details about the case. One official said Peters had been head of a Nazi police unit in Russia during the war.

Under Adenauer and Erhard, Peters was chief of the protection and security service of the special federal police unit in charge of government security.

South Viet Nam Asks West To Aid In War On Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, South Viet Nam's new military strong man, appealed today for Western support of his country's war against the Communists.

Ignoring French President Charles de Gaulle's proposal to neutralize Southeast Asia in a pact with Communist China, Khanh told the Saigon diplomatic corps he is confident "Vietnamese people and the rest of the free world would continue material and moral support of the struggle against communism here."

Although repetition of the French proposal at De Gaulle's news conference in Paris Friday drew no official comment, relations between France and South Viet Nam remained seriously strained. Some sources predicted a break.

After the champagne reception, Khanh, 36, told newsmen a decision on his country's relations with Paris would be "extremely difficult."

In a cryptic style reminiscent of De Gaulle himself, the strong man added: "We shall handle our enemies and the friends of our enemies in our own way."

Khanh was far more blunt Friday. About the time De Gaulle made his statement in Paris, Khanh accused the French leader of attempting to impose a brutalizing policy on South Viet Nam and of blatantly interfering in its affairs.

At the reception Khanh exchanged pleasantries with French Charge d'Affaires George Perruche and told him: "You are welcome with us today, but I hope all the world is aware of the North Vietnamese aggression."

Lee's Studio To Mark 10th Year

Lee's Studio, 1900 Ludington St., is observing the formal opening of its new studio and the 10th anniversary of the business in a public open house Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m.

Lee Dick Wiles is the founder and owner of the business. His father, Lee A. Wiles, is a photographer, and Gordon Sullivan, owner of the Photo Art Shop, was a mentor of Dick Wiles' as a photographer. He worked at the Photo Art Shop as a student at Escanaba High School and for a time after graduation in 1950.

After four years in the Air Force, in which he served as an aerial and public relations photographer, he decided upon a career in photography. He attended the Air Force School of Photography at Lowry Air Force Base, at Denver, Colo., and received the highest honors in his class.

Returning to Escanaba in 1954 he started a studio and also worked at Harnischfeger Corp. operating a horizontal drill. "Harnischfeger really gave me my start in business," said Wiles. "Emil Zitner gave me my chance there in the commercial field and the account has been a very good one."

"My first studio was at 1515 Ludington St. and after a year and a half I left Harnischfeger and devoted by full time to it, doing both portraiture and commercial work. From a one man operation in 1954 we have grown to an enterprise with 7 workers.

"We stayed there a couple years and moved to 1412 Ludington St., to get a larger studio and we were there for four years. Then we found the church. I was driving by and saw a 'For Sale' sign on it and thought it would make a fine studio.

"It had served a Baptist congregation and then the Seventh Day Adventists, who were offering it for sale because they had a new church. We completely remodeled the inside, but the exterior is as we found it, except for the entry.

"The high church ceiling is desirable for studio purposes. The sanctuary has been converted to a tiered area, carpeted and draped, so we can accommodate groups as large as 80 persons and show all faces clearly.

"Our equipment is modern and we can photograph a whole class of 35 students individually and give them all their proofs the same day.

"The work rooms are on the ground floor and the equipment is automatic. We use computers for exposure determination and used automatically controlled printing so assure uniform tone quality.

"In commercial work our pictures range from one of the deepest mines in Michigan to aerial photography. Our picture of the icebreaker Mackinaw was nationally recognized by Graflex Corp.

"We have a photographer full time now doing portrat candid photography in the schools. Parents all know about this one; the kids bring home the pictures and they have to buy them. Actually we don't make much money on this, but it provides a service which many families value as they sometimes have no other pictures of their children at that age."

For his open house Wiles plans a gallery showing of some of his studio's work, with pictures on easles with individual lighting.

Wiles is wed to the former Norma Taylor, daughter of Charles Taylor, of Escanaba. They live at 311 N. 16th St., and have two sons, Johnny, 8, and Randy, 3.

Scouts Enjoy Birdland Visit

By MRS. I. R. NELSON

BARK RIVER — Cub Scouts of Den I, visiting the aviary at the Emil Klee farm two miles east of Wilson and one mile north of U.S. 2-41, saw about 650 parakeets and canaries housed in a building 12 x 40 with windows on the east and south walls.

In extremely cold weather Mrs. Klee makes a fire in a space heater. One wall is lined with large cages for the young birds and on the south wall are arranged the nesting boxes, most of which were closed. Mrs Klee explained she did this to give the birds a rest until she opens them up in April. A few nesting boxes still had baby birds in them. Birds lay from one to eight eggs.

The average hatch is four birds to a setting. Incubation is 18 days, the young birds leave the nest at four weeks and are on their own at six weeks.

Mrs. Klee, who is 81 years young, came to Wilson with her husband from Broad Axe, Mich. 43 years ago, and has been raising birds for the past 20 years. She sells some locally but ships most of them to the American Bird Corp. in Chicago from April to December.

"The females are the best trick birds," said Mrs. Klee, "and the males are the best talkers. That's contrary to the belief that the female of the species does all the talking."

"The cere of the male is blue and that the female is cream colored. The main diet of the birds consists of seeds, greens, eggs, cod liver oil and grit. Last year I fed one and a half tons of seed to the birds. I can bring in a bushel of lettuce and in no time it is gone.

"Parakeets mate for life and guard their nests and young constantly. Even now when the nexting boxes are closed the pair will not permit other birds near it. Both the father and mother birds feed the baby birds."

Once a parakeet escapes to the out-of-doors it is next to impossible to recapture it. She had one that got out and stayed around all summer but she was never able to get it to return to the others.

The Scouts had a ball holding the birds or having them perch on their heads, shoulders or hands. There was much merriment when one crawled down inside Vernon Chase's shirt. Mrs Klee and Den Mothers Mesdames Lloyd Olson and Rodger Quist came to the rescue. Vernon was relieved. "I could feel his sharp claws all the way down my back," he said.

From Klee's the Cub Scouts were taken to "47" to see the charcoal kilns on the Wilbert Nault farm. One made of brick with walls about 12 or 14 inches thick is extremely well preserved. The tops and upper walls of the stone kilns have fallen in.

OCEAN-WASHED

Bounded on three sides by water, San Francisco is among the few cities of the world with more than half its perimeter washed daily by the ocean's tidal currents.

Water Shortage Possible, State Advises Cities

A shortage of water in the Water Wonderland? It's entirely possible if the period of declining precipitation continues. In fact, some communities are already seeking out new sources of water supply.

Ground water levels are in some communities dropping to alarming lows; some inland lakes are now little more than waterless depressions; and Lake Michigan and Lake Huron in January this year are the lowest in a century of record-keeping.

Russell L. Johnson, Escanaba, engineer in charge of the Northern Peninsula Office of the Michigan Department of Health, has directed attention to the problem in a report to cities and villages across the Upper Peninsula.

Light snow covering, which is one of the manifestations of reduced precipitation, has its effect in increasing the consumption of water at municipal systems that may already have limited reserves.

Lacking an insulating snow covering, frost goes deep into the ground. Removal of snow on sidewalks and streets also lays bare the ground so that frost penetrates deeply.

To prevent water service pipes from freezing, many communities advise customers to turn on a water tap and leave it running through the deep months of winter.

For example, March last year was apt to show abnormal water consumption throughout the Peninsula, with Sault Ste. Marie's 3,829,000 gallons average daily water pumpage for March exceeding any other month of 1963.

This was also the case at Manistique, where the 1,275,000 gallons average daily water pumpage in March topped all other months of the year.

The situation was similar in many other communities, including Ishpeming, where there is alarm because of the dwindling supply of water from Lake Sally. The supply is insufficient, some new supply must be found in the emergency, and Ishpeming (like some other communities in the U. P.) must take a long-range look to correct a serious problem. Ishpeming City Council is moving ahead with employment of consulting engineers, Johnson said.

"The combination of little snow and unrestricted use could lead to critical water levels in towns using ground water as well as in those drawing from a lake or stream," Johnson has advised U. P. communities.

He urged a review of local situations with water superintendents "and take whatever action may be appropriate or necessary at the earliest possible date."

Last year's maximum water pumpage for any one day in Escanaba was 4,416,000 gallons on June 27; Gladstone was on June 29 with 1,435,000 gallons: Marquette 5,176,000 gallons on July 1; and Menominee 3,258,000 gallons on July 12.

Exchange Club's State President Will Speak Here

The Escanaba Exchange Club will greet its State President Harry Askin of Marshall at its dinner meeting to be held at 7 p. m. Tuesday in the House of Ludington. Askin will speak to the club at the dinner program.

Marvin Buck of Marquette, Exchange Club district governor, will also be a guest at the meeting. William Gasman Jr., president of the Escanaba Exchange Club, will conduct the meeting.

Probate Judges Attend Seminar On Social Policy

ANN ARBOR — Juvenile court judges and hearing officers from throughout Michigan attended the third in a series of four intensive training institutes on Jan. 22-25.

Purpose of the program: to improve the trainees' knowledge of law and related disciplines so that they can more effectively carry out the social policy of the juvenile court. In addition, the program is developing new concepts of juvenile court law that may lead to legal reform.

The program is presented by the Institute of Continuing Legal Education of the University of Michigan Law School-Wayne State University Law School and the State Bar of Michigan. It is funded by a grant from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Joining the juvenile court judges and hearing officers in attendance at these institutes are other leaders in the juvenile court field from the legislature, social agencies, education and the public. At the most recent institute, the trainees studied "Behavioral Science Aids to Disposition: the Use and Misuse of Expert Evidence."

Attending from the Upper Peninsula were Probate Judges Marie D. Peters, Delta; John Faketty, Schoolcraft; Herbert Taylor, Mackinac; Roosevelt Dascola, Iron; Robert Payant, Dickinson; James Henderson, Cihppewa and John Pater, Alger.

Hearing Clinic Planned Feb. 5

The second hearing clinic will be held at the Delta-Menominee District Health Department in Menominee at the court house on Feb. 5, at 1 p. m.

Dr. William Jones, Jr., is in charge of this follow-up clinic. Mrs. Doris Szapa, hearing technician, Delta - Menominee District Health Department, and Nestor A. Wickman, regional audiologist, Michigan Department of Health, Lansing, did preliminary testing of these children in the schools.

Lundgren Told He Was Right

LANSING (AP) — A member of the State Apportionment Commission feels now that the legislature should have been given the districting job in the first place.

William Hannna, a Muskegon Republican, told Sen. Kent Lundgren, R - Menominee: "You were right and I was wrong. You've got more members in the legislature — more room for horse trading."

Lundgren, as an observer only, attended Friday's public hearing — technically the first one held by the commission as a constitutional body.

Hanna volunteered the remark when Lundgren was introduced, as a courtesy, to the commission.

"I am disappointed," Hanna said. The two had clashed, as Constitutional Convention delegates, when Lundgren pressed for a plan letting the legislature set new districts.

"That's the biggest confession I ever heard in my life," Lundgren said after the hearing.

Mead Mill To Get 2nd Pulper For Production

Work has started on erection of a second Hydrapulper at the Escanaba Division mill of Mead Corp. after construction of a building and pit to house the big machine, announces Manager George Douglas.

Construction of the building to house the Hydrapulper was started by the contractor, Erling Arntzen Construction Co. last year and required blasting 16 feet into rock to get the level desired for the installation. A 350-hp motor and converter are mounted at the bottom of the big tub, which has a diameter of 16 feet and height of 12 feet, to drive the impeller in the bottom which agitates the pulp dumped into it after it has been filled with water.

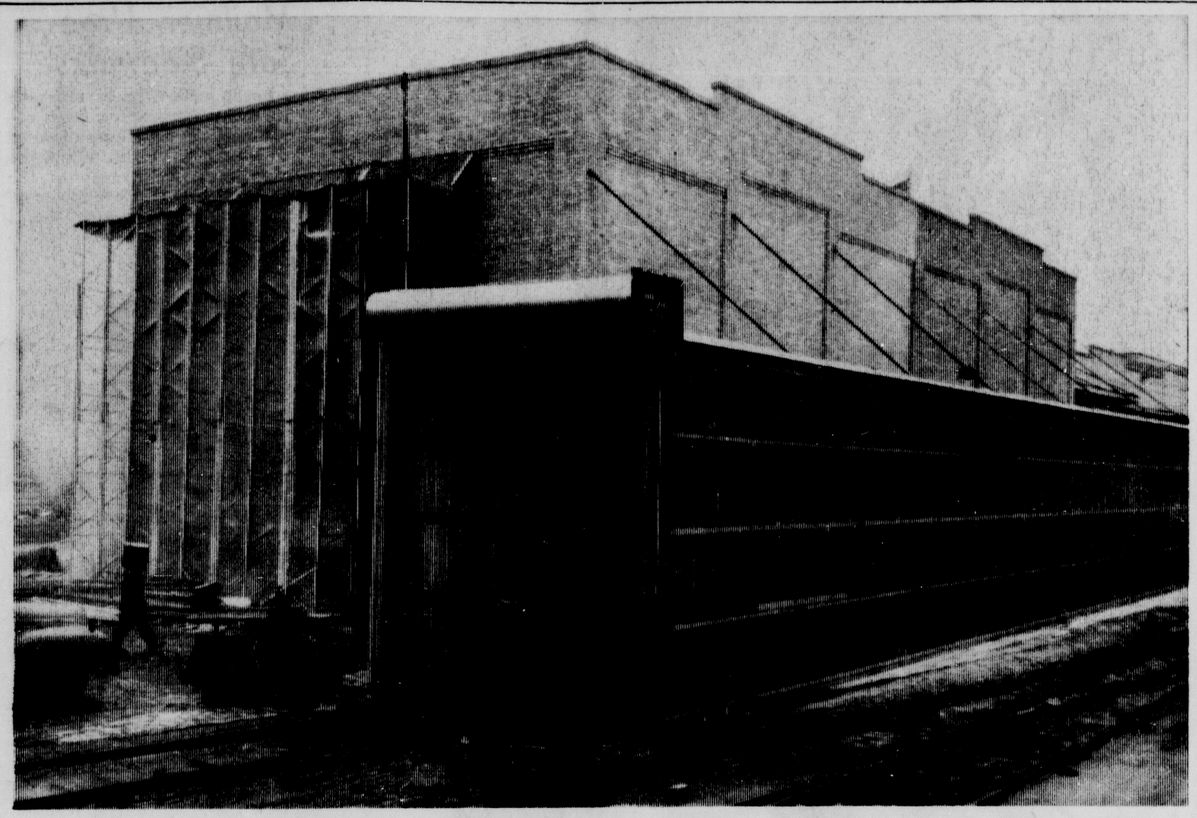
Escanaba Division of Mead makes paper from bleached Kraft pulp which it buys in bales from the Mead mill at Brunswick, Ga., and from Canada and the State of Washington sources, and from the groundwood pulp from its own pulp mill here. The groundwood pulp comes from the mill in desired slush form, but the imported Kraft pulp must be churned into slush again for making into paper. The Hydrapulper performs this function so the imported pulp and the groundwood pulp can be blended in the mill's beater room.

Mead installed a Hydrapulper in its Escanaba mill in 1947 to replace its beaters. It is now installing a second Hydrapulper to give it expanded capacity and reserve facility. The second machine will be operable at the end of February, said Douglas, and will be used then.

It is next to the first Hydrapulper in a brick and steel building 46x60 feet and 37 feet tall constructed to house it. One wall of the new Hydrapulper addition is of panels made of two sheets of metal with insulation between them. This wall can be removed later if desired to extend the building to create a pulp storage warehouse like that which serves the first Hydrapulper.

The roof is of precast concrete insulated and surfaced with pitch and gravel.

A trainshed 175x16 feet has been constructed on the track side of the Hydrapulpers section of the mill to cover unloading operations. It has a plastic side for lighting, a steel roof with rolling door at the end.



THE NEW HYDRAPULPER addition to the Escanaba Division mill of Mead Corp. at Groos is pictured with a new train shed at right. The Hydrapulper building construction was started last spring and installation of the machinery, part of which can be seen on the end of the car in the train shed, is now underway. The building is 46x60 feet. The plastic cover protects workmen installing glass block panels and reduces suction. (Daily Press Photo by Bernard Schultz)

Dairy Herds Of Michigan Get More Culling

If you are not culling 30 per cent of your dairy herd annually, you are below the average of Michigan dairymen in the Dairy Herd Improvement Association program. J. L. Heirman, Delta County Extension director reports 23,500 of the 78,800 cows in the Michigan testing program in 1963 were removed from the herd for various reasons.

Death is not the big cause. Only 1.6 per cent of the animals died. Accidents took 40 per cent of these, milk fever 18 per cent and "hardware disease" almost 15 per cent.

An indication that dairymen are culling herds more heavily is revealed in the figure that nearly 50 per cent of the cows sold left the herd because of low production. Another 20 per cent went out because of sterility and breeding problems.

Heirman believes more farmers are paying close attention to total milk production of each animal and disposing of those which are not money makers. To do this a farmer must have production and feed cost records, he says.

Production testing is available to all dairy farmers in Delta County for a small fee. Details are available at the local extension office.

Lepisto Heads Soil District

Elmer Lepisto of Rock was elected chairman of the Delta County Soil Conservation District by directors meeting Friday night at the Delta County Building.

Mel Taylor, Schaffer poultryman, was elected vice chairman, Jerry VanDamme of St. Nicholas, treasurer, and Joseph L. Heirman, secretary.

The directors reviewed the work program of the district for 1964 and said that the youth plans would get stress. It is planned to organize several farm tours to show youth good soil management practices, and to continue the district's tree planting program, in which youth has always participated. Forms to be used for ordering planting stock are now available at the office of J. L. Heirman, Delta County Extension director, Delta County Building.

Carignan said that a tour of the county for adult members of the Soil District also is planned this year. He said that "quite a few" more ponds for farm use and for wildlife are planned for construction in Delta County this year and that the Soil District is trying to get a drag line from government surplus to use in pond construction where it is too wet for bulldozers to work.

Trial Of Hoffa

Much as we dislike the Teamsters Union chief's vertical and horizontal economic philosophy for organization and control of his union's membership, we dislike even more the unmitigated use of federal judicial power to put him behind bars.

James Hoffa may have made some mistakes in the operation of his huge union, but mistakes are also made by the executives of big corporations. The Ford Motor Co. lost a lot of money when it introduced the Edsel. Big banks lost another big bundle when their executives and subordinates failed to check their warehouse receipts against the actual holdings of a large vegetable oil firm in the East.

What happened? The New York Stock Exchange came to the rescue of the brokers who went broke, and the banks involved absorbed their losses. It is our view that the stock exchange should not have bailed out the brokers involved at the expense of other members. This is only a license for laxity. (Don't worry, Jack, our big brothers will get us out of this.)

* * *

What we are leading up to is this: There is fraud rampant in high places; multi-million dollar organized crime on high and low levels; corruption in government at all levels, federal, state and local.

We have a Central Intelligence Agency, highly secret, that is supposed to protect our national interests and security. We also have the FBI that is working along parallel lines. Neither of these fundamental agencies has been able to stamp out the narcotics racket or organized crime. Yet we now see the U.S. attorney general, Robert Kennedy, making a political career out of the prosecution of Mr. Hoffa.

There comes a time when prosecution can change to persecution. We think this time has been reached at Chattanooga. While we may not be exactly correct in a complex legal sense, we believe that Hoffa is being placed in double jeopardy. He has been tried in numerous courts on a number of counts. This case is the sixth or seventh. The numbers are not as important as the unnecessary effort of the Justice Department to put a very competent labor leader behind bars.

* * *

Whatever indiscretions Hoffa and his far-flung organization may have committed are infinitesimal compared to the use of federal power to crush a single individual who, in the normal course of life, will be here today and gone tomorrow.

We think that Hoffa's economic thinking is haywire, but at the same time we think he deserves credit for standing up for what he thinks is right. Some of his top men have resigned. We do not know why. Perhaps they could not stand the pressure, or perhaps it is a move to take over from Hoffa.

What Hoffa and his union do is their own business, providing they remain within federal law and the laws of the states. If they get too far off base, the general public and business competition will chop them down to size.

To the best of our knowledge, Hoffa has never stood on the Fifth Amendment to protect his rights. That is a lot more than we can say for many individuals who have had connections with the Federal Government.

We exported Lucky Luciano to Italy because he was one of our vice kings. Perhaps we should have kept him here to keep our numerous federal agencies informed about the facts of vice on a high level.

* * *

We hope Hoffa is exonerated at Chattanooga in justification of judicial morality, that the Justice Department spends its time and money on more important matters and that Congress, the fundamental lawmakers, who represent the people, take a long and hard look at themselves, individually and collectively, some morning when they get up to shave. If they examine their minds and their numerous consciences, they might rediscover some of the cornerstones of law and humanity that have made the United States a great and powerful nation.

If Hoffa is wrong in his economic thinking, time and events will catch up with him and his union sooner or later. In the meantime, we suggest that the Justice Department close its case on Hoffa and concentrate on closing the files on far more important cases that have been pending too long.

Supplying Our Needs

One of the bright harbingers of growth in the Upper Peninsula this winter is the construction of a big new Tahquamenon River sightseeing boat in the Upper Peninsula.

Other vessels of the Beach family's famed river boat line were constructed at Saginaw and at Fort Wayne, Ind., and one was constructed at Hunter's Mill on the river above Soo Junction.

* * *

The T. D. Vinette Co. of Escanaba designed and is building the newest boat to show sightseers the famed upper falls of the Tahquamenon. The all-steel craft, 72½x21 feet and powered with twin diesel motors, will be built and disassembled into sections which will be transported over an ice road to Hunter's Mill for reassembly.

The happy circumstance of an Upper Peninsula shipyard and metal fabricating plant serving an Upper Peninsula recreational industry is significant of several advances, as was the Vinette Co.'s earlier construction of a Lake Superior cruiser that plies between Copper Harbor and Isle Royale.

1. It marks confidence in Upper Peninsula marine construction.

2. It marks a maturing Upper Peninsula recreation industry which is upgrading its transportation facilities to attract more tourists and to serve them better.

* * *

The new Mississippi-type river boat for the Tahquamenon represents a large investment by Capt. R. J. Beach, who is carrying on the river line founded by his famed late father, Capt. Joe Beach, a game warden who showed so many visitors the beauties of the Tahquamenon and its falls that he thought these should be public facilities so visitors could share these pleasures. He started his boat line in 1927 and it has flourished.

It carried 25,000 passengers in its peak year. Last year it carried 22,000 passengers, but Captain Beach has full confidence in the business and its growth. "We were down in tourist business like the area last year," he said "but we're going to give the public better facilities and help the promotion of the Upper Peninsula and we know there'll be more people enjoying the beauties of the Tahquamenon and the Falls in the years to come."

This is the spirit that will make cash registers ring all summer from the Montreal River to the St. Mary's and send thousands of visitors home with memories of a wonderful Upper Peninsula vacation.

Washington Comment

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — President Johnson is up against heavy odds in much of his controversial congressional program. His success may depend heavily on his own personal brand of persuasion.

What then has been the key to Johnson's victories with Congress in the past?

Johnson, himself, says he wasn't born with ability to crack the whip. He tells of this incident shortly after he became Senate majority leader:

A senator who had promised him his vote on a very close issue, but who had voted the other way instead, came up to Johnson and said: "I'm sorry, I wish I could have told you beforehand, but so-and-so got hold of me and I couldn't say no." Johnson reassured the wayward senator: "Don't worry about it at all."

Another colleague then came up and said: "Johnson, you'll never make a successful majority leader. Old Joe Robinson would never have put up with that sort of thing. That senator gives that same excuse all the time."

Said Johnson, reminiscing, "I learned to hold people's feet to the fire and not let them off easy."

* * *

One high government official who was once on his staff explains Johnson's successes this way: "He comes at you like a gangbuster. He keeps pushing away until he finds what affects you, what's in it for you —on a high plane or low.

"When he comes at you, you see everything come out—the vanity, the anger, his appeals to your better nature and your self-interest, everything. But this all-outness seems to release his strength and his good qualities as well as his bad. People like myself who hold things back, work on one cylinder while he's working on six."

Some of Johnson's success seems to be based on his single-mindedness. Says one former colleague:

"He's got a fantastic sense of the proper priorities. When he's on something important, someone could literally walk across his toes and get no more than a smile and a continuation of the conversation.

"And he has a remarkable capacity for going back into a situation when he's been licked once.

* * *

"Take a case in which he has with great difficulty brought a bill to the point where he can get unanimous consent for a vote after talking to say 60 or so senators who might be interested. This can be a very difficult maneuver indeed.

"Then when he brings it up on the floor some senator who no one thought would say anything, or even be interested, stands up on the floor to object.

"Johnson's first reaction is one of disbelief. He'll go out for about 15 minutes, then come back in with that sort of a lope, hands in his pockets, sort of a propulsive walk, a kind of shambling.

"He'll go and talk to the objecting senator for about half a minute. They'll go off and talk in his office. Then he'll come back in, make the motion again. But he'll put the time for action off a day or for three or four hours, to give the opposing senator some token of victory. He keeps his eye on the main objective.

"Any other man would blow up and say 'I've done my best,' and drop it."

Kent And Ionia Form District

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Organization of a new 5th district Republican committee for Kent and Ionia counties was announced Thursday to serve until a statutory committee is designated by the GOP congressional nominee in the Aug. 4 primary.

Kent and Ionia make up the new 5th district as the result of congressional reapportionment approved by the legislature last June.

Walter J. Russell and Fred D. Keister III, chairmen of the Kent and Ionia county Republican committees, respectively, announced the new 5th district organization.

Russell will serve as district chairman, Ionia County Clerk Phyllis B. Laviolette will be vice chairman, Mrs. Donald Josephson and George E. Cowlishaw, both of Grand Rapids, were named district secretary and treasurer.

The 5th district had consisted of Kent and Ottawa counties for 127 years. Ionia County previously was part of the 8th congressional district. Ottawa County is moving into the 4th congressional district and will caucus with Kent County for the last time at the state GOO convention in May when delegates will be named to the national convention.

CAGE RCEORD

While reading the Press of Monday, Jan. 27 — the sports page — "Ishpeming, Manistique Make Late Bids in GLC," I noticed an erroneous statement, which follows:

"Manistique, which hasn't finished atop the conference heap since it shared a co-championship with Ishpeming in 1952-53 (both were unbeaten that year, which was before the league adopted a ruling that all schools must play other members at least once), is 5-2 for the GLC campaign."

Perhaps it doesn't seem such an accomplishment to you, as it was forgotten so quickly, but to Manistique 1960, our centennial Year, brought four GLC championships: Football, Track, Golf, and Basketball. 1960 was a year in which the ruling mentioned in your quote was being enforced, so we won it according to the correct set of rules.

By the way, 1960 was also the year Manistique snatched that GLC championship from Escanaba. However telling all the facts, Escanaba did defeat us for the U.P. championship.

Better luck next time,

'Green License' Proposed For Young Drivers

LANSING (AP) — Two bills aimed at young drivers in Michigan will be ready for a vote in the House when the legislature returns to work next week.

One of the proposals is the so - called "green license" bill, which provides that drivers' licenses issued to persons under 21 be a different color from adult licenses.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Toepp, R - Cadillac, is intended to curb the use of doctored drivers' licenses by minors as identification for obtaining alcoholic beverages.

The secretary of state's office has recommended green as a color choice in the event the bill is approved. Michigan drivers' licenses now are gray.

The other bill, also sponsored by Toepp, would make persons 16 and 17 years of age subject to the state's point system, under which the accumulation of 12 points in two years can cost a driver his license.

Juvenile traffic violators are now subject to probate court jurisdiction.

Both bills were moved into position for a vote before lawmakers recessed Thursday for the weekend.

In the Senate, a new version of the "long truck" bill of 1963 was introduced by Sen. Kent Lundgren, R - Menominee.

The proposal would increase the legal length of trucks on Michigan highways from 55 to 60 feet, plus a three-foot overhang front or rear.

The bill's purpose is to allow auto haulaway trucks capable of carrying one extra vehicle to use Michigan highways. Truckers could gain an estimated 20 per cent in revenue, Lundgren said.

Michigan Trucking Association, which supports the proposal, said some states around Michigan have approved laws allowing 60, 63 or 64 - foot trucks.

In Memoriam

Pilon

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Edward Pilon, who died four years ago, Sunday, Feb. 2, 1960.

Four years ago he passed away,
Into His Master's keeping,
Who gave us these consoling words
Not dead but only sleeping.
He heard the voice we could not hear,
Which said he must not stay.
He saw a hand we could not see
Which beckoned him away.
No one knows the silent heartaches,
Only those who have lost can tell,
Of the grief that is borne in silence
For our dear one we loved so well.
More and more each day we miss him,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow,
That lies within our hearts concealed.

Sadly Missed By
Mrs. Isabelle Pilon and sons

New Safeguards Are Set Up For Processing Fish

LANSING (AP) — Revised guidelines have been agreed upon for the processing and handling of smoked fish, J. L. Littlefield, chief of the Foods and Standards Division of the State Agriculture Department said Friday.

Littlefield said the agreement means smoked fish from Michigan plants soon should be available to consumers.

A committee on botulism control appointed by Gov. George W. Romney agreed on the guidelines Wednesday.

Members agreed some changes in previous guidelines were needed to help preserve the fishing industry and at hte same time maintain maximum contributions to the protection of public health.

The meeting was the third in a series to study the problem of botulism contamination of smoked fish.

Littlefield said the revised guidelines will be distributed immediately to all processors of smoked fish in Michigan and appropriate action will be taken to put the requirements into effect through legislation or emergency regulation.

Changes recommended were:

—Removal of the requirement that all smoked fish be immediately frozen after processing and distributed and stored as a frozen food. Substituted was a requirement of 30 degrees maximum storage temperature through all channels of trade.

—Removal of the alternative processing time of 160 degrees for five hours, making the uniform mandatory processing time 180 degrees internal temperature of the fish for not less than 30 minutes.

—Require all packages and containers to bear a code to indicate date of processing with an expiration date of 14 days from such date, after which the product is to be removed from sale, not to be consumed.

—Elimination of the vacuum-packed product unless the product shall be processed in a sealed container to a time and temperature to sterilize the product contained.

School Prayer Vote Postponed

LANSING (AP) — There was preliminary skirmishing in the Senate Thursday over a resolution to ask Congress to permit prayers in public schools, but a showdown vote was postponed until Tuesday.

The resolution, sponsored by Sen. Milton Zaagman, R-Grand Rapids, has 19 other signers, more than enough for passage. It asks Congress to propose an amendment to the U. S. constitution or to call a convention to add an article providing that "the free exercise of religion shall include the right to offer prayers in public schools."

Sen. Charles Blondy, D-Dedetroit, led the attack on the resolution.

Blondy said it would upset a U. S. Supreme Court decision of last year and also would be contrary to the new State Constitution.

"This opens the question of what kind of a prayer it should be," said Blondy. "Should it be Protestant, Catholic or Jewish? it also would open up the question of bible reading in the schools."

Rose City Firm Gets Contract

DETROIT (AP)—Award of a $1,888,337 contract to the Casemaster Body Co. at Rose City in Ogemaw County was announced Friday by the U.S. Army Tank Automotive Center. The contract is for 2,200 1-½ ton cargo trailers.

The contract was described as the Army's largest small business award ever made to a northern Michigan firm.

Union Rejected At Shakespeare

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Shakespeare Co. production and maintenance employes voted 423 to 238 Thursday to reject representation by the United Steel Workers.

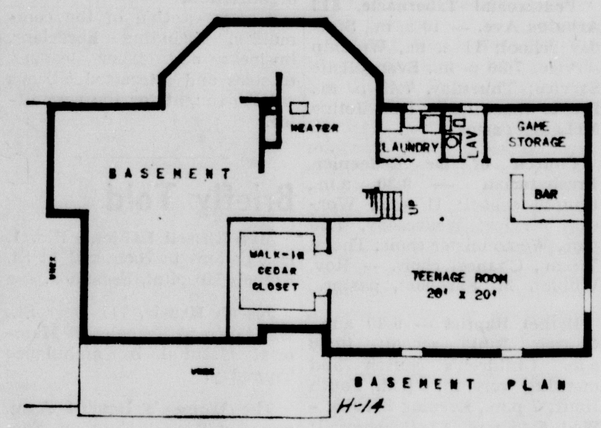
The National Labor Relations Board election climaxed a campaign by management and labor at the sporting goods manufacturing firm which employs more than 700 persons here.

The steel workers had represented Shakespeare Co. employes before a strike in 1948-49. There has been no union since that time.

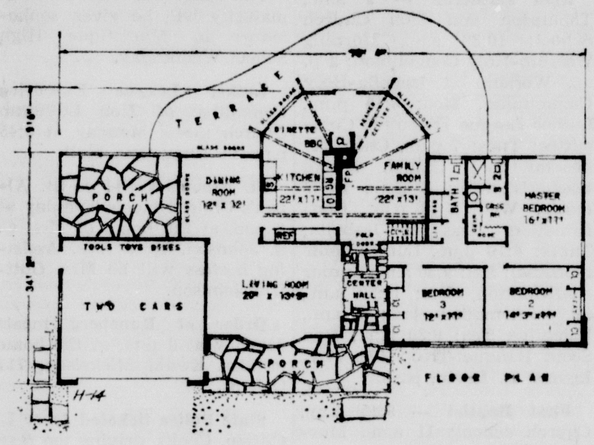
House of the Week

U-Shaped Bay Featured

TRADITIONAL BUT DIFFERENT: Behind this ever-popular traditional facade is a living area completely different in its concept of providing a practical and dramatic living area. The house contains three bedrooms, 2½ baths.



FLOOR PLANS: The basic living area is 1,794 square feet in overall dimensions of 78'4" wide by 43'8" deep. The house was designed by architect Lester Cohen



An eminently practical, livable and organized home, but also one completely different from run of the mill development houses, is the goal of nearly every Sunday afternoon subdivision shopper.

Architect Lester Cohen achieves this elusive design in today's House of the Week, H-14 in the series.

He has conceived of a flexible arrangement of the family social area focused around an enormous bay extending into the rear garden. The core is a brick fireplace—a veritable hub around which all household activity turns.

On one side is the kitchen and on the other the family room. Between are a dinette (with a barbecue fireplace for "cookins"), and an extension of the family room which allows it to flow outdoors to the terrace and garden. The result is an expansive indoor-outdoor living area, completely informal, containing all the necessities of day-to-day family routine.

The rest of the modest ranch style home contains three bedrooms, formal living and dining rooms, built-in two car garage, and a basement complete with recreation room, laundry, bar, and an abundance of storage space including a walk-in cedar closet.

The basic plan contains only 1,794 square feet of living area in over-all dimensions of 78'4" wide by 43'8" deep.

Unlike other homes which feature something off - beat simply for the sake of being "different," this house was designed with considerations of daily homemaking in mind. Whatever is different about it —and that's considerable—was dictated by practical necessity, and it shows.

An integral part of the rear bay plan is the view from the main entrance.

Immediately on entering the house through the flagstone center hall the focus of attention is on the family room with its fireplace, floor-to-ceiling glass, and sloping beamed ceiling. Architect Cohen decided the place for the fireplace was the family room rather than the formal living room because in this arrangement it is the family room that will get the most use by far.

The formal living room reaches any part of the house.

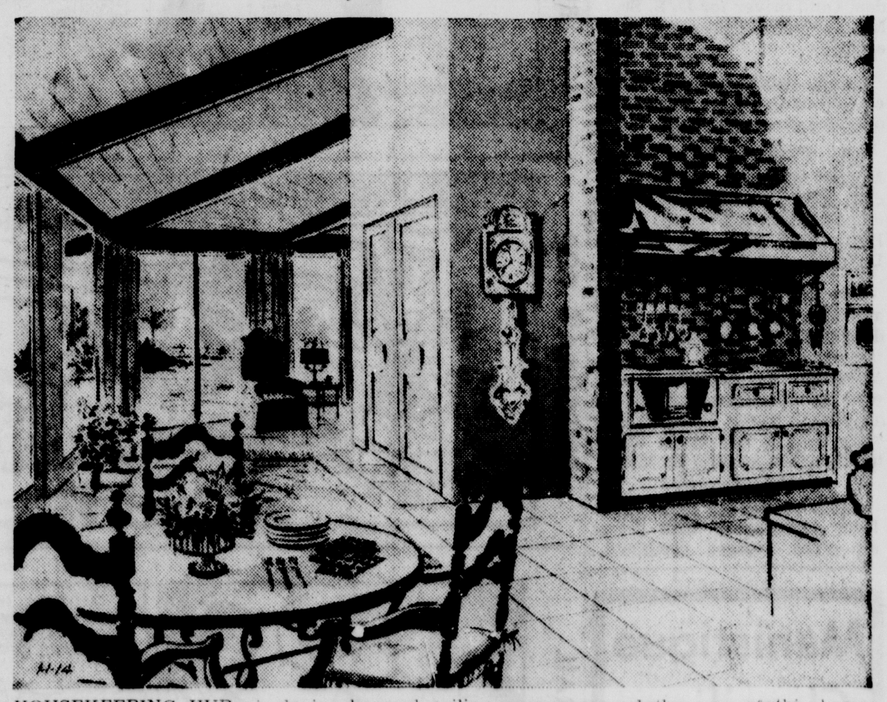
H-14 STATISTICS

A one-story ranch type home with three bedrooms and two baths on the main level, plus living room, dining room, kitchen, dinette and family room; and recreation room, laundry, storage facilities and lavatory in the basement. Basic living area is 1,794 square feet in over-all dimensions of 78'4" wide by 43'8" deep.

The dining room joins the living room through an archway and also has an unusual amount of privacy. It has two walls of sliding glass doors—one leading to the side porch mains set apart from the daytime activity area, a sort of special place for special gatherings. Its focal point is a bow window overlooking the covered flagstone porch with its grill-work columns. There is no need ever to cross the for-(which can be screened), the other opening to the rear terrace which the dining room shares with the dinette and family room. The terrace, in fact, links all the rear portion into a well integrated indoor-outdoor living area.

The sleeping area contains three bedrooms with copious closet space, a feature especially true of the master bedroom. This room has its bath and dressing area set aside so it doesn't interfere with furniture arrangement. The main bath, or family bath, is equipped with doors separating the bathing area from the lavatory, and has an interior linen closet.

There also is a lavatory in the basement, serving the recreation room and laundry. The staircase to this important informal actviity zone is convenient both to the main entry and the family room.



HOUSEKEEPING HUB: A sloping beamed ceiling sweeps around the rear of this home connecting this kitchen with the family room, including space for a dinette. The bay extends into the rear garden.

Give The Boy Hobby Space

(AP) Newsfeatures

Why not give a growing boy some of that space going to waste in the basement?

It's a likely place for a messy project and you may find a budding engineer or scientist on your hands.

You can put the basement to practical use and start a youngster off on a hobby with a purpose perhaps by giving him a work surface, good light, ventilation, privacy. Play the rest by ear. When his enthusiasm begins to bubble, supply him with other needs.

A makeshift divider can separate him from other areas—furnace, wash tubs and whatever. If he is in a corner, the other two sides may be closed off with bamboo blinds or drapery rigged from the ceiling. When interest mounts a more permanent enclosure could be considered. The home carpenter may consider enclosing the area as a worthwhile project in any event. If the youngster tires of it, dad can take it over for a workshop.

Many homes have old coal bins no longer in use due to conversion to other fuels. These structures make ideal little niches for work areas when scrubbed up and properly lighted.

Parents often complain that young people lack serious purpose, trat they are concerned mainly with recreation, cars, allowance. But perhaps this is where parents themselves have failed in their responsibilities. They surround their youngsters with the wrong props.

Boys who get a little slice of home for their own devices may begin to build with their hands or dream and contrive something worthwhile. In contrast with other generations when there were fewer social distractions to wean boys from an eagerness to adapt themselves to the responsibilities of manhood, today's young man often can't decide about his niche in the world when he is a college senior. He hasn't had enough contact with a work enterprise that appeals to him.

In large apartments, some parents turn over a closet to a young fellow, and he may promptly use it for photography experiments. Many artisans have begun their work in ceramics in just such a fashion.

Or he may find his forte is in electronics.

At age 9 Robbie Branham of Stamford, Conn. was ensconsed in just such a pied de terre in his basement. He was happy as he fiddled with old radios, discarded motors and machine parts. He had a great assortment of literature on the subject. He built a radio and began fixing neighborhood radios "for the experience." He took on a 10-year-old business partner and they had cards printed.

At 13, Robbie, an excellent science student, has branched out somewhat to a 7 by 9 foot area with work table, counters, a professional looking parts cabinet with wires, tubes, surplus parts given to him by radio stores. He has built a volt meter, transmitter and is working on a computer. The hole board on the wall has all sorts of interesting things hanging from it.

Some parents feel their youngsters will be deprived of fun if they take up a serious hobby. But a hobby can be fun and it doesn't need to be all-consuming. A young fellow can appreciate other recreation all the more. Play can become an enormous bore when you have no other interests. And when it does, where do you go from there?

Robbie is a Boy Scout, belongs to church organizations, plays the violin, takes a dancing lesson now and then.

If he ever has a major success in the electronics field, it may be because he developed a serious preteen project that saved him from boredom in his teen years, a time when it can be fatal to one's entire future.

February Marked Hemophilia Month

NEW YORK — The third annual National Hemophilia Month, dedicated to campaign to gain public support and recognition in the fight against bleeders disease, will open Feb. 1

This year's campaign is designed to clarify public misconceptions of hemophilia.

Nearly 50 per cent of the more than 100,000 victims of hemophilia in this country have no family history of this disease.

Hemophilia is caused by the failure of the blood to clot normally. Uncontrolled bleeding may result from the smallest incident, or can be completely spontaneous. Bleeding may occur internally or externally, requiring any number of transfusions and may result in crippling or even death.

Mental Upset Wins $150,000

PONTIAC (AP) — A jury awarded a man $150,000 damages Friday on his claim that a traffic accident revived a painful psychological experience and caused a "traumatic psychosis."

The man, Jack Newby, 24, of Warren, contended that fluid seeping from broken bottles in a truck he was driving reminded him of the time he watched gasoline dripping from a car in which two persons died of burns.

The unusual case was decided in three hours by a jury of five men and seven women in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Newby had asked for $300,000 damages in a suit against the Inter-City Trucking Service Inc. of Detroit.

One of his attorneys, Walter Guth, said Newby suffered a whiplash injury in March, 1961, when his truck was hit by another truck in Hazel Park.

Newby's truck contained cases of soft drink. Many of the bottles were broken. Guth said the spilled soft drink fluid recalled for Newby a scene he witnessed as a teenager.

In that incident, Guth said, Newby saw two people burn to death in a wrecked car on the Ohio Turnpike. The leaking soda dpop reminded Newby of gas dripping from the death car.

Two psychiatrists who testified on Newby's behalf said the Hazel Park accident had inflicted a traumatic psychosis because he associated it with the fatal crash, the lawyer said.

Newby has been unable to work and has been hospitalized on two occasions since the accident, Guth said. He said Newby, married and the father of a 4-year-old child, probably will require further hospital treatment.

Two psychiatrists who testified for the defense contended that Newby's mental condition originated before the truck accident and suggested he could be rehabilitated, Guth said.

Federal Library Aid Increased

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate sent to President Johnson on Thursday a bill boosting federal aid to libraries from $7.5 million a year to $45 million.

The bill also removes a limitation that confines the aid to rural areas with less than 10,000 population.

Church Organ Hides Escaper

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Police say a Michigan youth who escaped almost three weeks ago on his way to court has spent part of his freedom hiding behind an organ in a down-town church.

James Greene, 18, Allen Park Mich., fled the Allen County courthouse Jan. 13 in Indiana's worst winter storm. He has eluded police since.

Officers said they staked out the church Jan. 20 after finding evidence Greene had been living in a loft behind the organ. He never returned, however.

Police said he apparently had been shaving with holy water and at least twice had turned the church thermostat up at night from 45 degrees or so. They said Greene left behind some canned food and a book, "I'll Die Laughing."

The youth, who had been living in Fort Wayne before his arrest with a young runaway Michigan girl, bolted from officers on his way to court when guards were diverted by an unsuccessful escape attempt by another prisoner. He was charged with first-degree burglary

Committee Will Study Plight Of Jobless Youths

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George W. Romney says his newly-created Manpower Development and Training Committee "has agreed to launch an assault on the problems of jobless youth, hard-core unemployment and chronic dependency on welfare programs."

The committee held an organization meeting here Friday. Members agreed to submit recommendations Feb. 19 and to prepare a summary of current state and federal job development and retraining programs and to develop a statement of long range goals.

Romney named Malcolm Lovnell, chairman of State Labor Mediation Board, as vice chairman. Members include heads of state agencies and representatives of labor, business, agriculture and education.

Chrysler Gets Big Army Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Chrysler Corp. has been awarded a $17.13 million contract from the Army for 4,000 trucks and ambulances to be produced at the firm's Warren plant, Michigan congressmen announced Friday.

Two Bills Call For Tax Relief

LANSING (AP)—Tax relief—rather than a budgeted $24 million surplus—is proposed in two bi-partisan sponsored bills filed Thursday in the senate.

The value of a trade-in would be subtracted from the value of a new item before the sales and use tax on the new item is calculated, under a bill sought by Sens. John Smeekens, R-Coldwater, and 17 co-sponsors.

Senate Tax Committee Chairman Clyde Geerlings, R-Holland would give business activities tax relief to service businesses with high payroll costs and low inventories.

The estimated tax reduction under Smeekens' proposal would be $17 million. Geerlings proposal would save business owners an estimated $5 million.

Both measures would imperil Gov. George W. Romney's budget proposal to place $19 million in a capital outlay fund and provide a $5 million surplus for use in $965-66.

Smeekens, however, said his proposal would stimulate the economy.

Lowest towns in the world are villages along the Dead Sea, 1,286 feet below sea level.

MANISTIQUE

Mrs. Peter S. Bosanic (Mincoff Photo)

Cheryl Richard Bride Of Peter S. Bosanic

Cheryl Helen Richard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin E. Richard of Garden, became the bride of Peter Samuel Bosanic, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bosanic, Manistique in an 11 a.m. ceremony today at St. John the Baptiste Church in Garden. The Rev. James L. Donneily officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The birde's gown of silk organza over taffeta was fashioned with a sabrina neckline, etched with pearl trim, and three-quarter sleeves. The skirt was embellished with re-embroidered alencon lace, and the full chapel train was appliqued with lace and caught to a bustle of taffeta rosettes.

Her 4-layered veil of imported English illusion was designed and hand-made by Lorraine Ward, a friend of the family. She carried a white prayer book with an orchid and stephanotis.

The Attendants

Attending her were Mrs. Lawrence Guertin of Garden, her cousin, as matron of honor; Connie Wilson and Penny Farley, both of Garden and Beth Farley of Detroit, cousins of the bride, as bridesmaids.

The attendants wore identical gowns of red satin in sheath style, with overskirts of red organza and lace. Their headpieces were red satin circle pillboxes with wisp veiling. They wore cultured pearl pendants and earrings, gifts of the bride. Their flowers were white trailing pompons attached to red muffs.

The flower girl, Patty Farley of Garden, also a cousin of the bride, was attired in a white satin gown with overskirt of matching material and a red satin sash with large white rose. Her muff and flowers were like those of the other bridal attendants.

Mark Guertin, a cousin of the bride was ring bearer.

Lawrence Bosanic of Manistique was best man for his brother and groomsmen were Robert and John Bosanic of Manistique, brothers of the bridegroom and Calvin Richard of Garden, brother of the bride. Ushers were Norval Farley and Lawrence Guertin.

Home In Lansing

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Richard selected an ivory and gold mylar 2-piece over-blouse style dress with matching gold accessories. Mrs. Bosanic wore a winter white brocade sheath with three - quarter sleeves and matching accessories. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

A breakfast was served immediately following the ceremony for immediate families at St. John Hall in Garden.

The reception will be in the K-C Hall at Manistique for 400 guests. Carol Haas and Becky Bernier will be in charge of gifts. After a wedding trip in Lower Michigan they will make their home in Lansing.

The bride is a graduate of Holy Name High School in Escanaba. The bridegroom attended Manistique High School.

Elly Peterson

Elly Peterson Speaker At Lincoln Day Dinner

Mrs. W. Merritt (Elly) Peterson, National Vice Chairman of the Republican National Committee and Director of Women's Activities for the Republican Party, will be the honored speaker for the Lincoln Day dinner to be held at the Dells Supper Club Saturday, Feb. 8. Plans for this event have been made by the Delta County Republican Women's Club.

Mrs. Peterson will be speaking at Lincoln Day dinners throughout the country. She has a schedule that includes stops in every state, and the presidential year will find her in a reserved front seat for all the top G. O. P. events.

She was born in New Berlin, Ill., and attended William Woods College, Fulton, Mo., Northwestern University, Chicago, and was graduated from Suburban Business College in Oak Park.

Wide Experience

Her activities in the past have given her the background to assume her new responsibilities. In 1942 she served with the American Red Cross for 22 months, as a secretary in the first United States Tent Hospital in France, later moving with the unit to Germany.

In 1954, the Petersons made a 12-month tour of the world and she repeated this tour last summer, though, in much less time. She is a member of the 100,000 Mile Club, with almost enough credit miles to double that figure.

Along with her political activities, Mrs. Peterson is a member of the Charlotte Country Club, the Lansing Business and Professional Women's Club, the Auxiliary of the American Legion and the Congregational Church. She also was a volunteer worker for the Red Cross, Cancer Society and hospital activities.

Charlotte Home

Elly Peterson and her husband, Col. W. Merritt Peterson, make their home in Charlotte. They moved there from Kalamazoo in 1952 to a lovely 75-year-old home named "Holiday Hill." Here she has keyed her decor to the mementos of their travels. Of special interest is the rug she designed and hoked, depicting Col. Peterson's military career.

Her interest in politics prompted her to join the Young Republican Club at Oak Park when she was 21. Since then she has moved up in the Michigan G. O. P. from a volunteer worker to the Vice Chairmanship of the Republican State Central Committee and became the first woman in the state to serve as the party's organizational director.

Library Director B. & P. W. Club Dinner Speaker

Harry Courtright, director of Escanaba Public Library, was guest speaker at the regular dinner meeting of Escanaba Business and Professional Women's Club, held at the Sherman Hotel.

In his introduction, he told that the library is governed by an eight-member board, composed of six men and two women. They hire the professional staff and all others are hired by the City of Escanaba under Civil Service.

Tracing the history of the library, he related that in 1903 the City of Escanaba received at $21,000 gift from Andrew Carnegie, an uneducated immigrant. The building was erected then with no further support. The maintenance comes from the city general fund 85%; State Aid 2.4%; penal fines 8% and miscellaneous overdue penalties and gifts about 3.47% which is the total support. There is great need for an addition to the building or a new library, he pointed out, and there are hopes it will be a reality by 1965. There have been periodical changes. At present the interior is being renovated to try to accommodate the present need.

There are 30,000 books available, he said, 6,000 for children; 400-33⅓ records, 8,500 pictures, mostly for school needs, etc., 5,000 pamphlets, 170 periodicals, 20 newspapers. The circulation is 120,000, meaning that every book went out four times. The registered adults number 2,400, children 4,000, exhibits from 7 to 20. There were 200 meetings in the room available in the basement last year. A member of the staff goes to the hospital and 450 books were circulated there during the winter months.

Mr. Courtright also spoke briefly on the Friends of the Library, an organized group, interested in the library and its problems and pointed out the many services the Friends could perform.

The meeting was in charge of the Public Relations committee.

JANICE JOHNSON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, Cornell Rte. 1, will be honored as one of the Good Citizenship Girls of Marquette Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. She will represent Gwinn High School, where she is a senior. Miss Johnson, who holds an outstanding scholastic record, is vice president of her class and was Gwinn's Homecoming Queen.

Ann Landers

Tall Girls Like High Heels Too

Dear Ann Landers: How about settling an argument? I want to buy a pair of heels for dress and my folks think I should stick to flats. I am 17 years of age and 5'8" tall. My folks keep telling me I will be taller than most of the boys if I wear heels. I say, So what?"

I love the way heels look and I don't care if they do make me taller than the boys. Will you decide this for me? Do I get heels or not—UP OR DOWN

Dear Up: And that's my advice. Up with your head, up with your shoulders and get up on those heels if you want them. It's how you feel about your height that counts, and you feel just fine. So congratulations and enjoy your new slippers.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann Landers: Fifteen years ago I divorced my husband because he was a Tom Cat and a liar. Our daughter was two years old at the time. I went to work because the support check always seemed to get lost in the mail.

Three years ago the Tom Cat married a woman with a big house and a healthy inheritance. Our daughter spends every other weekend with her father and his wife. Of late the girl has become critical of me, my clothes, our home, our furniture and the meals. She tells me they live graciously "over there" (two servants) and that I could take lessons from her father's second wife on how to be charming. This morning she informed me her father was a wonderful man and that I was a fool to let him go.

How do you tell a 17-year-old girl that her father was a chaser and a louse?—OUTCLASSED

Dear Friend: You don't tell a girl of any age that her father was a chaser and a louse.

You tell her that you have done your best and that furniture, servants and fancy meals don't necessarily make a home happy. Some of the world's loneliest people live a miserable existence in elegant homes.

Dear Ann Landers: Our grandfather is 86 years old. The doctor said there wasn't anything more they could do for him in the hospital and he suggested an Old Folks' Home where grandpa could get nursing care.

Every night after supper our parents insist that my brother and I go with htem to visit grandpa. I am 16 and my brother is 14. We don't see any point in killing two hours every evening sitting in a room with somebody who doesn't even know who we are.

Mom says the least we can do for grandpa is to be with him during his last days. Meantime we aren't getting our homework done because by the time we get home the evening is shot. If you say we should be excused from going at night and just go Sundays we'll show your advice to our folks and it will help us a lot. —WALL-PAPER STUDIERS

Dear Studiers: It makes no sense whatever for teen-age kids to spend two hours every evening visiting someone who doesn't know they are there.

If your mother and dad feel they must go, fine. But you and your brother should stay home and do your school work.

Confidential to TIRED OF THE RAT-RACE: Your husband has a false set of values. Try this little bit of Thoreau on him; "A man is rich in proportion to the number of things he can afford to let alone."

Arrows Ground Comets; Cement League Margin

NAHMA—The Nahma Arrows took a step closer to the Central League throne room here Friday night by beating Trenary 65-56, avenging their only setback of the season in 13 starts.

Coach Owen Peterson's cagers put the stoppers on Trenary's high scoring Comets who had soared over the century mark in their last two starts.

Big Pat Groleau turned in one of his finest performances of the season, rattling the hoop for 33 points and hauling down 21 rebounds for the Arrows.

Don Johnson continued his steady play with 15 points and Arlen Pomeroy chipped in 11 for the Arrows.

Coach Steve Ellis' Trenary team had three players in double figures, led by Wayne Lusardi with 15 points. They had a 32-30 edge in rebounds.

The Arrows hit 40 per cent of their field goals, scoring on 26 of 65 shots while Trenary tallied on 21 of 31 for 34 per cent. Both were deadly from the line, Nahma scoring 13 of 18 and Trenary 14 of 18.

Trenary won the jayvee preliminary game 45-29.

Americans Still Seeking Gold Medal In Olympics

BULLETIN

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—The judges of the women's Olympic slalom today granted the bronze medal to Jean Saubert of Lakeview, Ore.

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—An attractive blonde Russian skater, Lidia Skoblikova, is busy collecting gold medals at the ninth winter Olympics.

So far she is the only multiple winner in the Games.

She took the 1,500 meters women's speed skating title Friday in the record Olympic time of 2:22.6.

Lidia, 24 and married, captured the 500 meters gold medal on Wednesday. She set an Olympic record then, too—45 seconds flat.

She adds these medals to an already impressive display of gold and silverware. She became world champion at all four speed-skating distances in Tokyo last year and has two gold medals from the 1960 Olympics for the 1,500 meters and 3,000 meters.

And she entered today's 1,000 meters speed skating the heavy favorite.

In the 1,500 meters, Kaija Mustonen of Finland took the bronze medal in 2:25.5 and Bertha Kolokoltseva of Russia the silver in 2:27.1.

Norway's national hero, 27-year-old ski jumper Toran Engan, was dethroned by 32-year-old Veikko Kankkonen of Finland in the 70 meters ski jump Friday.

Kankkonen won the first gold medal ever awarded at the Olympics for the 70-meter jump. In doing so, he also captured Engan's world title.

Kankkonen had the unnerving ordeal of jumping last of 54 entrants. The Finnish physical training instructor went 259 feet, 2 inches and collected most points for both distance and style with his dramatic last jump.

Kankkonen finished with 229.90 points. Engan had to be content with a silver medal for 226.30 points, and Torgeir Brandtzaeg, also Norwegian, won the bronze with 222.90 points.

Jumping on the 90-meter jump takes place on the last day of the Games, Feb. 9.

Britain, which has not won a Winter Olympics medal since 1952, made a good start in Friday's two-man bobsled runs. The British pair, Tony Nash and Robin Dixon, had the best total time of 2:10.84.

They were closely followed by the two Italian teams, Sergio Zaedini and Romano Bonagura, and Eugenio Monti and Sergio Siorpaes.

The medals are awarded for the best total time of four runs. The final two runs were slated for today.

Sjoukje Dijkstra, the 22-year-old Dutch ice princess, who won the world title the last two years, took a commanding lead in the women's figure skating after completion of the five compulsory figures.

Miss Djikstra had 9.5 ordinals and 1,113.2 points. Second was Austria's Regine Heitzer with 20 ordinals and 1,074.8 points with Canadian champion Petra Burka third with 27.5 ordinals and 1,050.2 points.

All three American entrants were in the first 10 but still virtually out of contention.

Christine Haigler of Colorado Springs, Colo., was sixth with 53 ordinals and 1,000.9 points; 15-year-old U.S. champion Peggy Fleming of Pasadena, Calif., eighth with 81 and 968.6 and Albertina Noyes of Arlington, Mass., ninth with 88 and 951.3.

The competition will be completed with free skating on Sunday.

Arizona State Suffers Lapse In Cage Ranks

By The Associated Press

Calling Sherlock Holmes and James Bond. Investigate collapse of the Arizona State Sun Devils in college basketball.

The Sun Devils from Tempe won 26 of 29 games a year ago and finished fourth in the final Associated Press poll. With four starters back from this team, ASU was expected to have another tremendous season. Instead the Sun Devils have lost nine of 16 games.

As far as Coach Ned Wulk is concerned, he has no need of the two famed sleuths of fiction.

"The loss of Tony (The Horse) Cerkvenik is a big reason," Wulk says. "He gave last year's team character. This year we lack this. "I'm also at a loss to explain so many floor errors."

Cerkvenik, a star rebounder, now is playing with the AAU Phillips Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla.

Despite his woes, Wulk is better off than Ted Lenhardt in his first season as coach at Tulane. The Greenies haven't won a game, the only major team in this category this season.

Tulane dropped its 15th straight Friday night when Mississippi rallied in the second half for an 86-74 victory. In contrast unbeaten UCLA, the nation's No. 1 team in the AP poll, made it 16 in a row with an easy 107-76 triumph over California's Santa Barbara branch.

Donnie Kessinger's 38 points and Ron Davidson's 20 balked Tulane's bid for its first victory. Bob Davidson and Dale Gott combined for 48 points to keep the Greenies in contention until Ole Miss broke a 67-67 tie and pulled away.

Walt Hazzard and Gail Goodrich each got 21 points fo UCLA as the Bruins chalked up win No. 300 for Coach Johnny Wooden. Seven - foot Mel Counts flipped in 31 points to lead Oregon State to its 17th victory against three defeats, 85-79 over Seattle.

Oregon, playing at home, upset California 77-63 behind the 26 points secored by sophomore Ji mBarrett.

Gopher Rally Catches MSU

By The Associated Press

Michigan State almost helped Michigan take sole possession of first place in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association Friday night, but Minnesota rallied to beat the Spartans and retain its share of the lead.

Minnesota came back from a 6-4 deficit and beat MSU, 7-6, in the last 56 seconds. Meanwhile, Michigan walloped Colorado 7-0 7-0 and Michigan Tech downed Minnesota-Duluth 3-1.

Bruce Larson scored the tying and winning goals for Minnesota, which stands even with Michigan at 4-1 in league play. MSU is 1-4.

For Michigan, Wilfred Martin, Jack Cole and Bib Ferguson each scored twice. The Wolverines had 51 shots on goal, while Colorado had only 22.

Tech's winning margin was two tip-in goals halfway through the second period by Dave Draper and Rickey Yeo. Tech now is 5-7, while Minnesota-Duluth stands 8-9 for the season.

Sifford Retains Tie For First At Palm Springs

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—If Charlie Sifford couldn't keep his promise, he at least kept his position.

Sifford, tied for the lead after the first and second rounds of the Palm Springs Golf Classic, vowed he'd be alone in first place after the third round of the 90-hole event.

But, for the third consecutive day, Sifford was still tied for the lead today—this time with British Open champion Bob Charles — going into the fourth round of the $50,000 event. Each had an eight-under-par 208.

Sifford, the five-time national Negro champion, played at Bermuda Dunes Country Club Friday and shot his 2nd straight 1-under-par 71. Charles, the left-handed swinger from New Zealand, played at the difficult Eldorado course and shot a 69, the second best round achieved there through the first 54 holes of the tournament. The classic is being played on four courses, all par-72.

Bill Casper Jr. came in with a 67 at Indian Wells Friday and, at 209, was only a shot behind the two leaders. There was a four-way tie at 210 among Gene Littler, Bob Adamson, Jimmy Demaret and Randy Glover.

Bob Goalby and Art Wall Jr. were a stroke farther back and Bob Rosburg, Chuck Courtney, Bruce Devlin and Bruce Crampton were tied at 212.

Tommy Jacobs, tied with Sifford after 18 holes, shot a 74 Friday and finished the round a half dozen strokes out of the lead at 214. Doug Sanders, tied with Sifford after the second round, shot a 77 and also came in at 214.

Jack Nicklaus, the defending champion here, was among 11 others at 214. He had a 69 Friday.

Arnold Palmer shot a 72, had a three-round score of 221 and appeared in danger of failing to survive the cut after the fourth round. About half the 128 pros will be eliminated before the last 18 holes Sunday.

Detroit Lion Rookie Dies

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions, riddled with injuries through most of last year, suffered a blow to their plans for the 1964 National Football League season with the sudden death of tackle Lucien Reeberg Friday.

Reeberg, 21, died as a result of uremic poisoning, Dr. Richard Thompson, the Lions' team physician, reported.

Dr. Thompson said the 305-pound Reeberg was apparently in good health except for symptoms of uremia when he entered the hospital for a physical checkup several days ago.

Reeburg collapsed, suffering a cardiac arrest, while undergoing an examination Friday afternoon.

Further tests will be conducted after Reeburg's parents arrive from New York, Dr. Thompson said.

The giant rookie gained a starting assignment in the fourth game of the past season and held onto the job. He was a graduate of Hampton Institute of Virginia.

"He was doing a really fine job for us as a rookie and I thought next season was going to be a really great one for him," Coach George Wilson said.

"He looked like the type who could develop into a really good lineman. I was really shocked . . the poor kid."

Marty Marshall Eyes Comeback

DETROIT (AP)—Marty Marshall—the only man ever to beat Sonny Liston in the ring—wants a chance to do it again.

The 39-year-old — some say he's 44—father of nine has not fought in four years, but he has applied to the Michigan Boxing Commission for a new license.

Liston was a virtual unknown when he faced Marshall in the Motor City Arena in 1954 and had his jaw broken by the tall, skinny, Detroit boxer.

Not only that, Marshall knocked down the future world heavyweight champ in St. Louis in 1955. Liston was down for an eight-count in that one — but Marshall had to pay for the damage.

"Nobody ever got hit the way he hit me after that," Marshall recalled. "He hit me a right hand on my ear. It didn't knock me out or knock me down, but it hurt so much I went down anyway. The next round he knocked me down three more times.

"He hit me in the stomach with that left hand so hard that I couldn't stand up and I couldn't fall down. Later I got strong enough so he could put me down three more times."

Still, Marshall can make a claim no one else can—he put the only blot on Liston's 37 bout professional record. He managed to keep out of Liston's way after breaking the potential champion's jaw and went on to a split 10-round decision.

Marshall, now a factory worker, has had recurring temptations to get back into the ring since Liston first knocked out Floyd Patterson for the heavyweight crown in September, 1962.

He finally gave in to the temptation and works out regularly.

The boxing commission, however, has been moving cautiously on his request.

"We've ordered him to take physical exams from three different physicians," said commission member Chuck Davey, one-time welterweight fighter.

"If he passes those, Commissioner Frank Cavanagh and I will go watch him work out, and if he seems able . . . well, why not?"

Winter Is Half Gone And Deer Are Well Fed

With winter half over and only two months of danger period to go, Joseph Vogt, Escanaba District game supervisor of the Conservation Department is optimistic about a good wintering of the deer herd.

Deer still are ranging freely in the district, says Vogt, except in areas where the snow is deep and there are few such areas. Only two of the district's six snow gauges show depths of more than one foot following January thaws and rains.

The gauge at Champion records 1.5 feet of snow and the one at Chatham 1.75 feet and all the others show under one foot.

Crusting of the snow is restricting deer in some places, says Vogt, but it has been a very mild winter so far in the area "and I don't expect any trouble now."

He said that winter conditions affecting deer are usually limited in the district to December, January, February and March "and with half the period gone it looks good."

Vogt said that physical appearance of the deer is good, but that it usually is at this time of winter and that the activity of the deer is apt to be a better indication of their physical condition than their appearance.

"There seem to be a lot of rabbits and ruffed grouse, according to field reports," said Vogt. "We have had many reports of Arctic owls in Marquette County, and reports of good hunting from most of the district.

Vogt said that the Conservation Department bulldozer cutting of scrub trees for deer feed had been ended in the district with 228 acres cut in four locations, all in Marquette County, one on the Little West in Escanaba State Forest north of Arnold and 3 in the Michigamme State Forest.

"We've had pretty good use by the deer of the tops cut down," said Vogt "and we expect good regeneration in the cut areas for feed.

"The two chain sawyers we have cutting deer feed have cut 27 acres in 10 different locations in 7 different deer yards and they'll be busy until the breakup. It's mostly small stuff with no salvage value along swamps. With the mild winter there's been less need for this than normally, but we expect extended benefits from this work in regeneration of feed in the cut areas."

Newberry Fishing Conditions

In the Manistique area, Indian Lake has been fairly consistent for perch, walleyes and northerns. Fishing on Dodge Lake has been a little slower this winter, however, three nice northerns weighing 22, 20 and 6½ pounds each, were recently taken. There are a number of shanties on the sloughs of the Manistique River with fishermen reporting some success for northerns.

Reports from Big Manistique Lake near Curtis indicate fairly good success for Walleyes and perch. Anglers are still having good success for Lake trout on Grand Sable Lake west of Grand Marais.

In the Newberry area, good catches of perch and a few rainbows were reported from Bass Lake north of McMillan over the weekend. Several good catches of perch were taken from Perch Lake north of Newberry. Activity on Millecoquin Lake near Engadine has slowed a little, however several nice northerns in the 5 and 11 pound class were reported.

In the Eastern portion of the District fishing activity was held down somewhat by the stormy weather over the weekend. The best reports came from the Les Cheneaux area where good pike and perch catches were reported.

Diabetes Toll 5th In State

Deaths from diabetes reached an all-time high of 1,908 last year in Michigan to rank as the fifth leading cause of death behind heart disease, cancer, strokes, and accidents, says Dr. Mary L. Cretens, director of the Delta Menominee Health Department.

"One reason for the climbing death rate is the fact that thousands of people are diabetic and aren't aware of it," said Dr. Cretens.

"Based on national survey findings, it is estimated that 50,000 people in Michigan have diabetes, and about half of them don't know it.

"Many of the deaths from diabetes could have been prevented had the disease been discovered at an early stage when it is most easily controlled. Although there is no "cure" for diabetes at present, with proper medical supervision, diet, and insulin or drug therapy, most diabetics can live normal lives and have a life expectancy practically as long as anyone else."

Diabetes screening programs were expanded in the state last year in an attempt to help find the disease in early stages.

With the help of the Michigan Diabetes Association, local groups, and the state and local health departments, more than 100,000 persons were tested throughout the state, and at least 600 were newly diagnosed as having diabetes by private physicians to whom they were referred on the basis of positive blood tests.

Rathbun Among Hostages Seized By Fleeing Killer

A former Escanaban, Burt G. Rathbun, was one of six persons kidnapped and held prisoner by an escaped murderer in a dangerously hectic chase and capture in Oklahoma City, Okla., on Jan. 22.

Rathbun, 24, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rathbun of 304 N. 15th St., Escanaba, has lived in Oklahoma City for about two years. He is married and has two daughters.

The adventure began when Howard Otis Lowery, 25, convicted murdered serving a life sentence escaped from his guard at University Hospital and eluded Oklahoma Highway Patrol for several hours until his capture after a chase at speeds up to 110 miles an hour.

Lowery had been taken to the hospital from prison for treatment of a hand injury. He escaped by threatening a guard with a knife, later used a stolen loaded shotgun to threaten his kidnap victims into driving him about the city.

Rathbun, employed by the Oklahoma Tire & Supply Co., and another employe were forced to drive Lowery around the city for several hours before being released unharmed about 5:30 p. m.

"I was just saying my prayers," Rathbun said. "I figured if I was going to go I was going to make peace with my Maker."

Later Lowery forced them to halt the car at the residence of a doctor, where he tied Rathbun and the others with extension cords and left them in the bathroom. "One wrong move and you are all dead," Rathbun quoted Lowery as saying.

Lowery was driving the doctor's auto when he was finally overtaken and captured without a shot being fired.

Service Cut Off; Air Force Pays $41,373.03 Bill

MOUNTAIN HOME, Idaho (AP) — The Air Force announced Friday night it is paying a $41,000 bill that caused a small telephone company to cut off service to two missile installations.

The base procurement officer at Offut Air Force Base, Neb., was reported preparing "a voucher in the amount of $41,373.03 payable to the Gem State Utilities Co."

Edward Streigel, president of the company, said he cut off communications service to two underground missile sites for an hour and ten minutes Jan. 21 because the Air Force had failed to respond to repeated demands for payment."

Illness Cancels Mendez Concert

Rafael Mendez, noted trumpeter, who was to have been featured soloist at the Escanaba Area Public Schools' band concert Feb. 6, is seriously ill in California and will be unable to come here.

Mendez collapsed in El Centro, Calif., on Friday, his agent advised John Chown, Escanaba band director. He was taken to a hospital for major surgery.

The concert at Escanaba has not been cancelled but it will be free, Chown said. It will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday Feb. 6, in Wm. Oliver Auditorium, and there will be no admission charge.

Because there will be three student bands — the accomplished Senior High Concert Band, and the Junior High School "A" and "B" bands — the program will be one to interest the entire family, Chown said. David Laakso and Chown are the directors.

"There was a wonderful response to Mendez' appearance last year and all of us are deeply disappointed that he is unable to return," said Chown.

Mendez was to have played in concerts here and at Green Bay on his trip to this area.

Dutch Freighter Reported Sinking Off Norway Coast

FARSUND, Norway (AP)—A Norwegian coastal station reported a Dutch coastal freighter sinking today in the stormy North Sea off Norway's southwest coast. It said the crewmen had taken to lifeboats.

The coastal station identified the ship as the Titan. It said it did not know how many persons were aboard.

A station spokesman said the crew had messaged that heavy seas had broken in the ship's hatches and that she was taking water fast. He said the crew reported it had started abandoning ship at 12:59 p.m. and that was the last message from the vessel.

"We presume she has sunk," the spokesman said.

He gave the ship's last reported position as about 45 miles off the town of Egersund.

Three Escape From Icy Bay

GLADSTONE—Three fishermen escaped today with nothing more than a wetting when the car in which they were riding broke through the ice of Little Bay de Noc and settled to its top just north of the Gladstone power plant.

The car, owned and driven by Ralph Young of 1315 Delta Ave., was hauled out by a wrecker.

Young and two companions were on their way out fishing when the car settled through the ice. The men climbed out, wet to the waist, and made their way ashore.

While there are many cars using the ice and the bay is dotted with fishing shanties, authorities warned that water currents in the area of the power station point at Gladstone cause dangerous weakening of the ice.

Fishermen should use extreme care in that area, they warned. In past years there have been several tragic deaths because of the unsafe ice.

Head Of College Jailed 30 Days Over Clothesline

RYE, N.Y. (AP) — A former college president has completed a 28-day jail term for defying a city ordinance against hanging rags from a washline on his front lawn in Rye, N.Y.

Dr. Webster Stover, 61, a former president of Arnold College in New Haven, Conn., had been sentenced to 30 days for using the washline attention-getter to protest what he called unjust tax assessments on his property.

He has said he will sue the city of Rye for false arrest. The case had gone all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court, which failed to act on Stover's appeal.

Powers Meet To Sound Central Sap Evaporation

Maple syrup producers of Delta, Dickinson, and Menominee counties and the surrounding area will have opportunity to hear authorities discuss new developments in maple syrup production at an all-day institute Tuesday, Feb. 18, announces J. L. Heirman, Delta County Extension director for Michigan State University.

It will be held at the Powers High School from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. E.S.T. All persons interested in the production of maple syrup, are invited.

Heirman said the institute will stress recent research findings, costs of central evaporation, new equipment developments, and marketing trends. There will also be a question and answer session on production problems.

Professor P. W. Robbins, of the Michigan State University Department of Forestry, is one of the speakers. He has been engaged in maple syrup research for many years and is a nationally known authority on problems of maple syrup production. Recently Robbins, working with other MSU researchers, developed a pellet that can be placed in tapholes to control the growth of microorganisms and increase sap yield.

This pellet is now in use and very effective, say Michigan producers. At the institute, Robbins will explain the use of pellets as well as other new developments, including the use of tubing to collect sap, and evaporator covers to eliminate excessive vapor in the sugar house. Robbins will also discuss critical practices involved in making high-quality syrup. Robbins is a native of Iron Mountain.

Lynn H. Reynolds, Reynolds Sugar Bush, Aniway, Wis., and R. T. Hartwig, agricultural economist, MSU Extension Center, Marquette, will discuss economic aspects of central evaporation. This operation has woodland owners tap trees and sell sap to a central plant for boiling, rather than operate their own evaporators. Reynolds and Hartwig will discuss the prices paid for raw sap, the equipment needs, and the production costs of this type of operation.

Trends in the maple syrup industry in New York and other eastern states will be covered by Lester E. Bell, MSU forestry specialist, East Lansing. Recently Bell travelled in the east to study equipment developments, sugarhouse design and location, syrup and candy packaging, and roadside marketing to tourists. Bell will use colored slides to illustrate his talk.

There will also be a demonstration on making maple candy. At present there is virtually no maple candy made in the Upper Peninsula. "Selling maple sugar as candy provides an opportunity to nearly double the returns per gallon of syrup." said Heirman.

Opportunities for expanding the maple syrup industry in the Upper Peninsula, based on the large number of young maple trees now reaching tapping size, and the growing tourist traffic, will be discussed by Roy E. Skog, MSU forestry specialist.

Job Of Bishop Declined Again

For the second time within three months a newly-elected Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Northern Michigan has declined to accept the position.

He is the Rev. John Baden of Winchester, Va., who was elected on Jan. 8 and has notified Bishop Herman R. Page of Menominee that he has decided not to accept the position.

Official announcement of the rejection came from the Rev. Canon J. William Robertson, rector of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church of Iron Mountain.

The Rev. Baden, shortly after his election in Iron Mountain earlier this month, with his wife visited in Menominee, Marquette, Escanaba and Iron Mountain. Shortly after returning to his home in Virginia he notified Bishop Page of his decision.

First rejection of the position was by Archdeacon Dean Stephenson of Bethlehem, Pa., who had been elected earlier in January and declined.

Canon Robertson said Friday the matter has been referred to Bishop Page and a standing committee in the Diocese, which serves in an advisory capacity. Canon Robertson is chairman of the committee which includes laymen and clergy of the Diocese.

The committee will meet Thursday, Feb. 6 at Menominee with Bishop Page to discuss next steps in the procedure to fill the position which will become vacant May 3 when Bishop Page reaches the manadatory retirement age of 72.
